John,

I worked at the Right to Life booth at the Harrison County Fair in Corydon last week. A woman came to the booth and asked if we did the billboards. She is a nurse in Corydon and said she knew three different girls that planned to have abortions. She tried to talk them out of it, but to no avail.

In each case, the girls later told her they couldn't go through with the abortion when they got near the clinic and looked up to see Jesus "looking at them" from a billboard like the one attached, only it said "Before I Formed You In The Womb I Knew You."

Just thought I'd let you know that there are many more babies saved than we will ever know about, at least in this life.

God Bless,
